This Good Friday, 10th April 2020 at 7pm, English wine drinkers and producers alike are going to show their support for the industry by buying and drinking their favourite English still and sparkling wines.

It all started with a tweet from winemaker and co-founder of Black Chalk Winery, Jacob Leadley for #theBIGenglishwinegoodfriday to be born:

"If every person in the UK that loves English or Welsh wine bought a bottle direct from their favourite producer I think we might secure an entire industry and their workforce in one very enjoyable evening." – JACOB LEADLEY, BLACK CHALK WINERY

WE'LL BE BECK BOX!

Nobody likes decision fatigue…
but everyone loves Judith Beck wines so we're making this one easy for you!

The Judith Beck estate is based in the Burgenland region in easternmost Austria and was founded by Judith's parents, Matthias and Christine Beck in 1976. After graduating from the Klosterneuburg Viniculture College, their daughter Judith Beck gained international experience at world-renowned wineries, including Chateau Cos d'Estournel in Bordeaux, Braida in Piedmont and Errazuriz in Chile. She made her first vintage at the family estate in 2001 and took over completely in 2004. Managing the family winery comes naturally to Judith who has an innate "sixth-sense" feel for the regional varieties Zweigelt, Blaufrankisch and St. Laurent and Weissburgunder.

A 6 bottle case (2 of each) or a 12 bottle case (4 of each)
